  - Be informed of latest research & practices in the field
  - Take part in the co-creation process of the teaching compass with a particular focus on generative AI, via dedicated focus groups and multi-stakeholder dialogues by benefitting from different viewpoints
- Curriculum analysis: Deepen the understanding of interdisciplinary learning for curriculum, such as STEM/STEAM

Format of the event

We are delighted to announce that the 5th Global Forum will be an in-person event and encourage members who are able to do so, to travel to attend. Together with our hosts, we have prepared an agenda which maximises the unique advantages of face-to-face meetings. To facilitate the participation of all members, a number of sessions may be held in a hybrid format and more information will follow shortly regarding those sessions. The draft Agenda will be updated and sent to participants as soon as possible with more information on the option to attend some sessions virtually. When registering, please indicate on the registration form whether you will be attending the Global Forum in person or virtually.

All participants (in-person and virtual) should register using this link. Registration is required for the three-day event and the closing date is 31 October 2023. As the success and understanding of the workshop depends on participants attending all three days, participants are invited to register if they can commit to attending the full program. Please register as early as possible as places are limited. It will not be possible to register after the closing date (31 October 2023). The dynamic nature of the workshop requires pre-allocation of participants (including moderators and note-takers) to small group discussions.
